Grow It Green Morristown, Inc., a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURE & EDUCATION

As 2025 comes to a close, we thank our community for their continued support. This report contains valuable information and data that will inform your understanding of the extent of Grow it Green's work, but the depth of our organization's impact on our community cannot be captured in numbers alone.

Since starting the Early St Community Garden in 2009, our community has grown to include the Urban Farm, in-school education programming, and the Winter Market. We feel this community as we hear of students tasting fresh-picked asparagus for the first time and talk about it for years to come. We experience this community as we get to know the team of staff, interns and volunteers that help grow and support your CSA share. When we bundle up to brave the cold on Sunday mornings to visit the vendors at the Winter Market, we feel this community even when we can't feel our toes.

This is what it's all about. I encourage you to read this report with this feeling of community in mind, and I look forward to connecting with you at the farm in the years to come. Thank you for being here and showing up; we will continue to be here for you, too.

SHAUN ANANKO

Director of Agriculture & Education

"Being the Farm Stand Advisor has opened up a new way of how I discuss and interact with everyday vegetables. It becomes an entire experience for our CSA members and retail customers, because it goes beyond "shopping for vegetables." They get to see where it's grown, the interns and volunteers who help cultivate it, and most importantly, the sharing of culinary and gardening ideas with like-minded people every week. Interacting with the CSA members has inspired me to try new recipes, and vice versa. This position has also allowed me to help educate Spanish speaking customers on vegetables they might not have consumed on a weekly basis, which is a crucial part of GIGM's mission to help food insecurity across multiple different communities." - Emanuel Vasquez
